R. IMPORTANT INFORMATION:

Limited Recourse Borrowings

A trustee of a self managed superannuation fund is permitted to borrow money or maintain a borrowing of money under an arrangement where:-

- the borrowing is applied for the acquisition of a single acquirable asset other than a one which the self managed superannuation fund would be prohibited from acquiring;
- the asset is held on trust for the self managed superannuation fund so that the trustee acquires the beneficial interest in the asset;
- the self managed superannuation fund has the right to acquire legal ownership of the asset after making one or more payments; and
- the rights of the lender against the self managed superannuation fund in relation to the borrowing (and any related charges or securities) are limited to the asset acquired.

Investment Rules Still Apply

The other usual rules regarding investments by a self managed superannuation fund and investment restrictions apply to any assets purchased through these SMSF limited recourse borrowing arrangements.

The asset being acquired must comply with the investment restrictions, which include:-

- the Sole Purpose Test;
- the Fund's governing rules;
- investment strategy;

- commercial and arms length dealings at market value;
- acquisition of assets from related party rules (business real property and listed market securities); and
- in-house asset rules.

Missing Documents

If you have checked a box that documents are 'not enclosed', you will need to provide copies in order for the property transfer documentation to be completed by MJHC Legal.

In assessing whether a transfer of property between superannuation funds is eligible for duty exemption, the State Revenue Office needs to sight copies of signed and dated Deeds of Establishment, Deeds of Amendment and any Deeds of Trustee Appointment. If there are any missing documents, it will be necessary for MJHC Legal to prepare additional supporting material and an additional fee will apply.

Security/Custodial Trust Document Review

If the Borrowings being made by the self managed superannuation fund are through a third party lender such as a bank, you can expect that your superannuation fund documentation and the limited recourse borrowing arrangements will be subject to a legal review by your lender. Some lenders will require your self managed superannuation fund trustee to be a company. Some lenders will require the security/custodial trustee to be a company. Due to Trust Law, it will not be possible for the trustee(s) of the self managed superannuation fund and the trustee(s) of the security/custodial trust to be identical trustee(s).

Superannuation Law can be quite complex. The requirements and structuring for limited recourse borrowing arrangements by self managed superannuation fund are also complex and onerous. Failure to satisfy those requirements can result in a breach of the Superannuation Law and possible non-compliance. It is highly desirable that whoever is performing the legal/conveyancing services associated with the property acquisition understands the nature and legal effect of the Superannuation Law requirements and in particular the structuring of the limited recourse borrowing arrangement.

The SMSF borrowing package deals only with the internal documentation required to satisfy the Superannuation Law requirements for borrowings by a self managed superannuation fund. Additional legal/conveyancing services will need to be provided in relation to the property being acquired by the superannuation fund. The offices of MJHC Legal, Solicitor can provide you with those legal/conveyancing services for an additional fee.

Effective Dates

The fund and the security/custodial trustee must resolve to execute the prepared documents. The date the parties meet will usually be the date of the prepared documents. However, the date on which the security/custodial trust comes into effect can be a future date. It is not possible to retrospectively establish a trust.

Meeting & Resolutions

It is not always a legal requirement that individuals physically attend a meeting of trustees or directors of a corporate trustee. Most modern trust deeds and company constitutions permit teleconferencing. Attendance by telephone can be a convenient method of meeting where parties are physically separated. You must indicate whether or not a party was or will be physically present at a meeting.

A circulating resolution is an alternative to attendance at a meeting in person or by telephone. A circulating resolution requires all parties to sign and date the resolution. It is also necessary for the parties to be provided with all relevant material relating to the resolution. This may not always be convenient or a secure means of safeguarding the material.

Importantly, a circulating resolution does not have any legal effect until the resolution is signed and dated by all required parties. It will also only be effective from the date on which the last signature is obtained to the circulating resolution. For these reasons, physical or telephone attendance at a meeting is preferred over a circulating resolution.

Costs associated with SMSF Limited Recourse Borrowings

In addition to the usual government duties and registration fees associated with real estate purchases, the transactional costs associated with SMSF borrowings under an SMSF limited recourse borrowing arrangement can be significant. In addition to the usual banking applications fees and charges, the fund will also pay for legal review of transactional documents by the Lender's internal legal team or external panel firm of solicitors. The cost of those lender legal review fees are typically between $1,800.00 - $2,200.00. Overall the costs of lenders will vary from lender to lender and you should allow between $3,000 - $3,950.00 as part of the costs you will incur in the transaction. You may also incur costs with obtaining advice and services from your accountant, financial advisor, finance broker and other professionals.

Funds will also incur legal costs for professional fees and out of pocket expenses for the services provided by MJHC Legal, Solicitor. The extent of those fees and charges will depend on the nature and extent of the work requested. Funds will be provided with information regarding costs that will be incurred and will be requested to enter into a Fee Agreement. Full details of the terms and conditions of the retainer will be provided after instructions are received. Funds should allow for professional fees of $3,700.00 - $4,770.00 for the following work typically performed:-

- SMSF borrowing documents and compliance review.
- Review of Loan Documents prepared by Lender.
- Conveyancing/Legal Services associated with property purchase.

The above indicative figures do not include out of pocket expenses. Additional professional fees will also be incurred for establishing new companies to act as Trustees, Deed Upgrades, Deeds of Trustee Appointment, Loan and Mortgage work for self funded borrowings, lease document preparation.

Other Issues

- Unless otherwise stated, your SMSF limited recourse borrowing arrangements will be governed by the laws applicable to the laws of the State or Territory of your self managed superannuation fund.
- Duty may be payable on the security/custodial trust deed in the State or Territory whose laws are to apply to the trust.
